In a world in turmoil, the qualities of a Bodhisattva are needed more than ever. During this retreat we will begin to explore our relationship to the qualities of Bodhisattva Tara, who can be our guide and inspiration as we begin to embody our potential Bodhisattva qualities.

Rob has been a practicing Tibetan Buddhist since 1973, and Jungian based psychotherapy since 1985, gradually developing a synthesis of Jungian and Buddhist understanding. Since 1985 he has been leading meditation retreats, integrating a Western approach to tantric practice. Today he teaches retreats in the UK with his wife Anna and also in Europe and the US.
