

We STRONGLY RECOMMEND TRAVEL/TRIP insurance that would cover your expenses related to taking a course.

These days there are increasing instances of events that can interfere with travel or course plans. Covid is an obvious example of one such problem that could arise on short notice prior to a course and prevent your participation. Climate related events such as storms or wildfires are other possible such events. We cannot refund short notice cancellations as it is often not possible to fill those spots even if the course has a waitlist. It prevents us from being able to budget and operate in a sustainable manner.

For these reasons we recommend looking into the many Trip and Event related insurance policies that you can purchase for specific plans like a course. These policies vary, but often cover expenses related to travel and tuition reimbursement. Often these policies can be obtained for 5-7% of your course costs. Well worth it should something unexpected arise.

NOLS prefers the MDM Group for tuition reimbursement insurance, but you will need to find a policy that makes sense for your particular circumstances.

You can compare policies at:

www.mdmgroup.net

www.squaremouth.com

www.allianztravelinsurance.com

www.travelguard.com

These are just a few of the many places that offer Travel Insurance. Find a policy that works for you and your budget and make sure you understand what it covers.